

about us

S4SC is a knowledge brokering service for community health and social services. Our partnership is owned and operated by Dr Bev Sibthorpe and Dr Sanchia Shibasaki.

Sanchia and Bev have over 50 years' combined expertise in primary health care research and development. They have experience in clinical practice, management, evaluation, quality improvement, and policy, community and workforce development. They have worked with universities, governments, primary health care organisations, and not-for-profits.

Now as consultants they have recognised the expanding need for smarter care and the current gaps in knowledge translation for quality improvement in community health and social services.

Readiness and Action for CQI

Readiness and Action for CQI is a professional development short course to enhance the capacity of individuals working in community health and well-being services to embed continuous quality improvement (CQI) in everyday practice.

Audience

This short course is for managers, clinicians, and others who are responsible for leading CQI. It is recommended that participants have a sound understanding and some experience of CQI.

Course Development

The curriculum is based on the review and synthesis of international and national literature and the experience of the S4SC (SenseMakers 4 Smarter Care) team. It also draws on advice from an expert panel of practitioners.
