

Expressions of interest sought for the Monash Health Aboriginal Nursing, Midwifery and Allied Health Cadetship Program 2018

The Aboriginal Nursing, Midwifery and Allied Health Cadetship Program offers Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander undergraduate students in their second or subsequent years of a bachelor degree in nursing, midwifery or allied health the chance to work part time at Monash Health whilst undertaking their studies.

- Support for the successful completion of education
- Support for possible transition to graduate program
- Paid professional development days
- Flexible work arrangements to accommodate student commitments

What the program offers:

- 40 paid supernumerary shifts over the course of one year
- Tailored program to suit the individual's area of interest
- Ongoing clinical and cultural mentoring
- Familiarisation with hospital settings
- Opportunities for improved confidence in the workplace
- Opportunities to identify potential areas of clinical interest and career planning
- Networking opportunities with peers and potential mentors

Eligibility

Students must be studying full time at a Victorian university.

Applications and further information

Judy Clayton
Aboriginal Cadet Nursing and Midwifery
Program Coordinator
t: 0408 384 494
e: judy.clayton@monashhealth.org
Monash Medical Centre,
246 Clayton Road, Clayton