

NSW Child Restraint Laws

Children aged six months to under four years must be secured in either a rear or forward facing restraint.

- Placing a child in a restraint that is designed for a larger/older child increases the risk of serious injury in a crash.
- Ensure the restraint is installed correctly as per the manufacturer's instructions.
- Teach your child to always keep both arms within the harness system of the child seat or the seat belt of the booster seat.
- Move your child into a forward-facing restraint only when they no longer fit into a rearward-facing restraint.
